PGA Sweden National Course

Ligt op 19 km van Malmö

Here in the former grounds of Torup castle we have poured our hearts and our souls into constructing the finest golfing resort in Scandinavia. At our disposal we have had the privilege to have worked alongside some of the most enthusiastic and knowledgeable people in golf today. This has culminated in the birth of a classic links golf course, Links Course, and a park land inspired course, Lakes Course. Both of them marries to nature and blends with beautiful harmony to the surrounding area.

Barsebäck Golf

Ligt op 32 km van Malmö

The first nine holes at Barsebäck Golf & Country Club were completed in 1969. The second nine followed the year after. The course was named the Old Course. In 1992 Barsebäck Golf & Country Club hosted the Scandinavian Masters for the first time. A unique course was created especially for this, mainly from the Old Course together with parts of the New Course. This arrangement proved so popular, a further 12 European tour events and the 2003 Solheim Cup have been held on the course since then. In 2003 the "competition course" became a permanent fixture named the Masters Course. The course is a delightful mix of wooded holes ringed with wind sculpted pines, open fairway holes and beautiful links holes overlooking Öresund. All with fantastic Penn A4 greens.

Ljunghusen Golfclub

Nr 12 van Zweden - <http://www.ljgk.se/>

Ligt op 30 km van Malmö

Ljunghusens Golf Club dates back to 1932 and there are 27 holes to be sampled here on this unique maritime heath of the Falsterbo Peninsula. The main course comprises of holes 1-18 (par 35 out and par 37 back) and the third nine is the shortest loop, rated as a par 35. Ljunghusen, which might best be described as a heathland links - in fact, Ljunghusen means 'house of heather'. There aren't many trees, but large, dense clumps of heather and crowberry come frequently into play, especially on the front two nines. It is the third nine that provides the true links experience, on flat, sand-based land with the last six holes running along the Baltic."

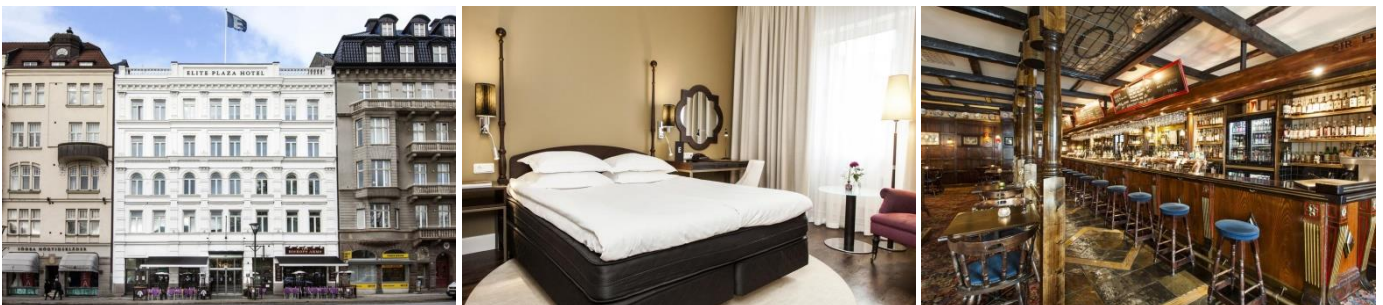

The club has held a number of national and international championships like the PLM Open in 1984 and 1987, the Telia Tour Grand Prix on the Challenge Tour from 1996 to 2004 and the European Men's Team Championships in 2001, when Luke Donald set the course record with a score of 63.

The wind can play a major part in proceedings here as it blows in off the Baltic and with a total of 80 bunkers, 12 water hazards and large areas of heather on either side of many holes, Ljunghusen can be a very challenging course and a tough one on which to play to handicap.

14/6 tee time : 10h00 tot 10h50
